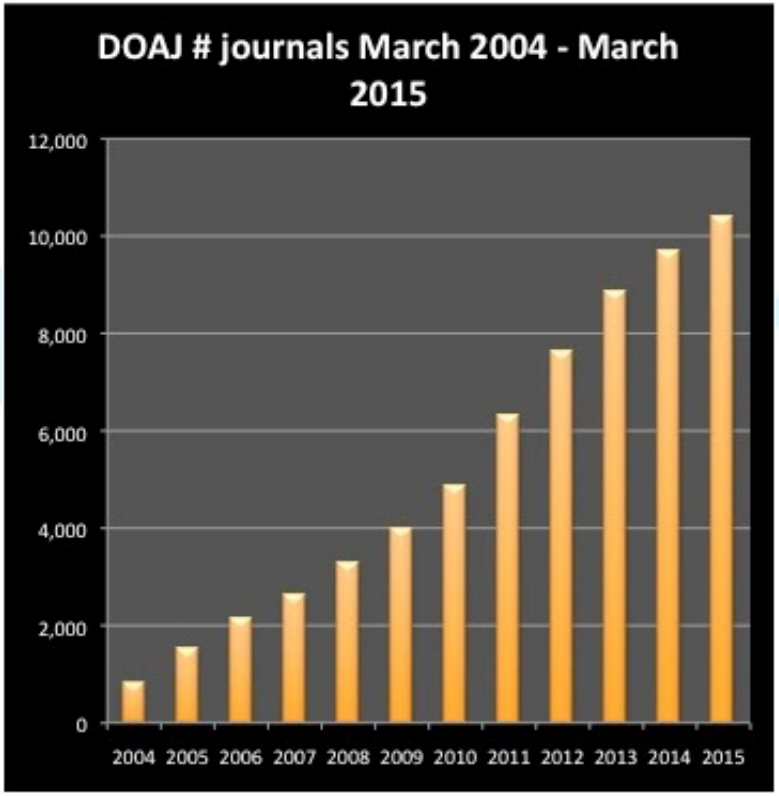
What is Open Access?



Open Access as business model

Open Access literature is digital, online, free of charge, and free of most copyright and licensing restrictions.

Wikipedia

- ✓ Free and open online access
- ✓ Disseminate research more rapidly and widely

Open Access: arguments pro

Danny Kingsley & Sarah Brown

Open Access: arguments contra

- Journals may charge Author Processing Charges (APCs) to publish
  - Average EUR 1.000 (Max Planck, 2015)
  - Impact factor <–> APC's
- Concerns regarding allocation of publishing funds
- Concerns about quality of journals (DOAJ= 11.135 journals)
- Questionable journals or spam

Different ways of OA and a variety of arrangements

To all member of the Dutch academic community

Dear members of the Dutch academic community,

The rise of the Internet has radically changed scholarly communication. New opportunities in ICT mean that everyone with access to the Internet can, in principle, benefit from the latest scientific insights. Open Access wants to ensure that the results of scientific research, particularly publicly funded research, are freely available. The Dutch universities actively support this development and have

Calls upon researchers to:

- use green OA today
- co-operate to achieve gold OA
- hybrid gold OA permitted as transition

Shop around for an OA journal

- Use online tools to find a journal that meets your needs:
  - Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ)
  - Web of Science
  - Beall's list of predatory and questionable publishers (507 journals and 693 publishers in 2015)
- Questions to ask:
  - How 'open' is this journal?
  - Is this OA journal peer-reviewed, included in WoS, IF?
  - How much is the APC?
  - What are the APC funding possibilities?
- Read Publisher's Agreement before selecting the journal

Funds for gold Open Access

- NWO: € 6.000 per project; OA journals only, no APCs hybrid journals. Also reimbursement after the end of the project.
- EU FP7 OpenAire pilot: APCs funding after the end of the project; OA journals only.
- EU H2020: budget APC within your project! OA and hybrid journals. Possibly a mechanism of funding post-project publications.

Discounts on APCs via WUR Library:

- BioMed Central (BMC) & SpringerOpen (440 journals): 54% discount
- Cogitatio Press: 20% discount
- Multidisciplinary Digital Publishing Institute (MDPI): 25% discount
