Vision and approach

General:
At Omnia, we work with the EAT-Lancet concept. This means that we replace a large percentage of the animal proteins in our menu with plant-based proteins. As a result, a large part of our assortment includes VEGA (vegetarian) and VEGAN options.

A fibre-rich diet is an essential part of the EAT-Lancet concept, so we only use bread types that are high in fibre, such as wholemeal and multigrain bread.

When we present our products in buffet form, we use signage to provide information. The signs give details about allergens/special dietary needs, indicate whether a product is VEGA or VEGAN, and tell the story behind the products.

If you require anything beyond the packages and products in this BQT-folder, let us know and we will be happy to discuss appropriate alternatives with you.

LEGEND
The grey icons indicate the allergens in a product. However, we cannot offer a 100% guarantee that cross-contamination does not take place.

VEGA = vegetarian  VEGAN = vegan
Products with a story

FROM HUTTEN’S KITCHENS
Traditional recipes prepared by hand; that’s what we call homemade! Whatever we cannot make on-site, we prepare in our Culinary Centre in Veghel or in the Verspillingfabriek (Food Surplus Factory). Our products contain less sugar, less salt, and healthy fats. They retain their vitamins and minerals, ensure a better life for animals, have easily traceable origins, and contain as few unnatural additives as possible.

Sandwich salads and spreads
Sandwich salads and spreads are made from our chefs’ recipes, with 100% natural ingredients.

Soup
Prepared every day with lots of fresh vegetables. Whether they’re too small, misshapen, blemished, or leftover cuttings; we salvage vegetables destined for the bin and turn them into delicious vegetable soups. Our powdered broths contain no E numbers. Prepared by our staff who face challenges entering the labour market.

FROM HUTTEN’S BAKERY
Our bakers are hard of hearing, so they’re not big on words, but they’re very good with their hands. They use them to communicate and to knead, roll and bake all that homemade goodness. Always using the finest ingredients. We bake the world a better place!

Brabant sausage rolls
Proudly made in Brabant! Individually handmade with grade A butter by our bakers.

Vegetarian sausage roll
Homemade by our bakers, with a stuffing made from sustainably grown oyster mushrooms.

Banana bread
We don’t waste anything! Our talented bakers thought up the most delightful recipe for vegan banana bread made from overripe bananas.

Biscuits, brownies & muffins
Our biscuit bakers are smart cookies! They only work with the finest organic ingredients, just like top-class chefs do. Fresh from the oven.

LOCAL HEROES
We work together with WUR Start-ups such as Zwamcijsje, Banabar and UPFRONT, as well as with local heroes for our vegetables, Krenkelaar, bread and fresh produce.

EAT-LANCET COMMISSION

Healthy nutrition from sustainable food systems

“To make the transition to healthy nutrition by 2050, a significant dietary shift is needed. The worldwide consumption of fruit, vegetables, nuts, and pulses must double and the consumption of foodstuffs such as red meat and sugar will need to be reduced by more than 50%. A diet rich in plant-based foods and with fewer animal-based products is beneficial to both human health and the environment.”

SPOIL YOUR GUESTS

Cava 0.0% € 4,10
Non-alcoholic sparkling wine

Krenkelaar 0.0% € 4,10
Sparkling apple cider from the Betuwe with fresh, fruity, and full flavours

‘Krenkelaars’ are ‘not quite unblemished fruit’; a sparkling term that exactly defines the origins of the fruit used for this drink. Fruit with a bruise or a cut that still tastes perfectly fine.

The fruit growers are given a fair price for the krenkelaars, which in turn allows them to improve their orchard’s natural surroundings with bee-friendly shrubs, beautiful flowering hedges and flower beds. This enriches the Betuwe landscape and contributes to greater biodiversity, a beautiful landscape, and a stronger regional economy.

prices are per person per hour and are inclusive of VAT
