

Education and Examination Regulations Wageningen University 2020-2021 (general part)

The Education and Examination Regulations (EER) are a legally required set of regulations (Article 7.13 WHW) that provide students with information about and establish regulations concerning their programme at Wageningen University. The EER consist of two parts: a general part and the Study Handbook. The Study Handbook describes the learning outcomes, the programme structure and planning for each programme and provides detailed information on all courses and the corresponding interim examinations offered by Wageningen University. The Study Handbook may not conflict with the general part of the EER. For each course a course guide is supplied, containing information about the teaching material, the education, interim examinations and partial interim examinations. The rules and information in the course guide may not conflict with the general part of the EER or the Study Handbook. The course guide is part of the online learning environment and can be consulted independently of the registration for a course. The EER is part of the Student Charter, which contains a number of other regulations applicable to students.

In addition to the EER, the Examining Boards have adopted Rules and Regulations in which the procedures regarding interim examinations and the tasks and authorities of the Examining Boards and examiners are specified. The most important topics relate to registration and withdrawal for interim examinations, assessment and standards for interim examinations, various approval procedures, exemption procedures, rules for graduating 'cum laude', maintaining order during interim examinations and measures in case of fraud.

Admission requirements and regulations for MSc programmes

These MSc admission regulations are an appendix to and form part of the Education and Examination Regulations (EER/ OER) of Wageningen University (WU) and provide the procedure and requirements for admission to the MSc programmes. The Master's Admission Boards are authorised by the Executive Board to decide on admission on the basis of the EER and these regulations.

1. Application procedure

- 1.1. The prospective master's student who is seeking admission to one of the Wageningen University MSc programmes, is required to submit an application via the website www.studielink.nl.
- 1.2. The application, including all required documents, should be submitted before the application-deadline that is mentioned on the WU website. Only complete applications will be taken into consideration.
- 1.3. A complete application includes all required documents. These are:
 - a) diploma
 - b) academic transcripts
 - c) proof of English language skills, according to the requirements set by the University as listed on the website
 - d) statement of purpose
 - e) curriculum vitae
 - f) additional documents if required by the specific programme applied for.
- 1.4. In the case of Article 1.3.a, b and c, these documents must demonstrate that the admission requirements established in Chapter 2 have been met.
- 1.5. With regard to Article 1.3 a and b, if the prospective Master's student is unable to submit these documents because the diploma has not yet been obtained, the prospective Master's student will be conditionally admitted. The condition is that the prospective Master's student must still submit the diploma and academic transcripts at a later date, but before the deadline. SSC informs the prospective student of the deadline.
 - a)

2. Admission requirements

- 2.1. The prospective master's student with a diploma of a related bachelor's programme meets the admission requirements and is therefore admissible. Whether a bachelor's programme is related to the prospective master's programme is determined on the basis of Article 11 of the EER, and, if applicable, on the basis of the Table meant in Article 11, section 1 sub a, of the EER. The admission requirements are:
 - i. Level: a Bachelor's degree (or an equivalent award at ISCED 2011 level 6).
 - ii. Prerequisite knowledge: The student must have sufficient prerequisite knowledge to be able to complete the Master's in the designated time.

- iii. English proficiency: WU's standard English proficiency requirements are published on the WU website. There are two levels described, and the website indicates the level required for each programme. The website also describes how different categories of students can demonstrate that they meet the admission requirement for English proficiency.
- 2.2. The prospective master's student who doesn't comply with article 2.1. has the opportunity to demonstrate that they meet the admission requirements in other ways::
- i. Level and prerequisite knowledge: If the student with an unrelated Bachelor's programme does not fully meet the prerequisite knowledge requirements, this can be compensated by having a Bachelor's degree with an average mark of at least 7 (Dutch system), or the international equivalent. Detailed information on other international equivalents of the required quality is published on the WU website.
 - ii. English proficiency: other ways of satisfying the English language proficiency requirements, as described in article 2.1 paragraph iii, are described on the WU website.
- 2.3. A quality of a student just falling short of the requirements mentioned in 2.2 sub i can only result in admission at the discretion of the Admission Board, when there are sufficient compensating factors such as:
- a) Thesis result;
 - b) Scores for the courses that are of particular relevance to the MSc programme applied for;
 - c) Indisputable upward trend of course grades;
 - d) A declaration of the educational institute of the applicant on a deviating GPA policy;
 - e) Achievements in postgraduate education;
 - f) Multiple studies;
 - g) Scores for WU courses (by exchange students or students taking a minor);
 - h) Reference letters;
 - i) Quality of the degree awarding institution;

3. Admission decision

- 3.1 The admission decision is taken by the relevant, domain-specific Admission Board on behalf of the Executive Board.
- 3.2 The applicant will receive a decision ultimately 8 weeks after the complete application was submitted. The decision will explain why the student was not admitted.
- 3.3 The applicants can be admitted provisionally if the Bachelor's degree certificate hasn't been issued yet. In such case the applicant will be informed that admission will only become definitive when a diploma is submitted.

4. Appeal

- 4.1 Applicants who do not agree with decisions based on these regulations can appeal within six weeks after receipt of the decision. The appeal must be in writing and directed at the Examination Appeals Board. The appeal has to be sent to the Student Legal Protection Desk (legalprotection.students@wur.nl).
- 4.2 Before an appeal is taken into consideration, the Examination Appeals Board sends a notice of appeal to the Admission Board, inviting the Board to contact the appellant in order to determine whether or not an amicable settlement of the dispute is possible. The Admission Board shall reconsider the application. Appellants can supply additional documents to support their application.

- 4.3 Within three weeks the Admission Board shall report to the Examination Appeals Board whether or not an amicable settlement has been reached. If this is not the case, the Examination Appeals Board shall start the appeal procedure.

Appendix 4 Regulations Binding Study Advice (BSA)

These regulations are an elaboration of Article 59 of the Education and Examination Regulations (EER), and lay out the procedures for giving binding study advice during the first year of a Bachelor's programme. If and in so far an article of the English version of these Regulations differs from the Dutch version, the meaning of the relevant article in the Dutch version is applicable.

Article 1 Procedure for giving pre-advice

1. Not later than 20 working days after the end of the February resit period of the first academic year of enrolment in a Bachelor's programme, the Examining Board, acting on behalf of the Executive Board, will provide the student with a pre-advice.
2. This pre-advice counts as a warning to prevent a negative study advice, which may be given at the end of the first year of enrolment in the Bachelor's programme.
3. The standard to receive a positive pre-advice is a minimum of 18 credits earned.
4. The pre-advice is given by e-mail and must at least contain:
 - a. the student's name and student number;
 - b. the number of credits earned by the student;
 - c. if the student meets the standard, a positive pre-advice: 'expected to meet the requirements for the degree programme';
 - d. if the student does not meet the standard, a negative pre-advice: 'on the basis of the current study results not expected to meet the requirements for the degree programme';
 - e. in case of a negative pre-advice: notice of a reasonable term (until the end of the academic year) within which study results must have improved to a certain extent, in order to provide the Executive Board with a basis for giving a positive advice as described in these regulations;
 - f. in the event of a negative pre-advice as described in subsection d: a strong recommendation to make an appointment with a study adviser;
 - g. date and signature by or on behalf of the Examining Board.
5. No rights to a positive study advice can be derived from a positive pre-advice.
6. Following a negative pre-advice, the student is strongly advised to meet with the study adviser and discuss how he can still achieve the required standard within the course of the academic year. The study adviser will document in writing the agreements made with the student.
7. If due to exceptional personal circumstances as described in Article 5 of these Regulations, the student is not able to meet the standard, the student should make these circumstances known to the student dean. The student dean will record these circumstances in writing and agree with the student as to whether the latter must provide further proof of said circumstances. The student dean, in consultation with the student, will inform the study adviser and Examining Board of these personal circumstances in a timely fashion.

Article 67 Procedure for giving final study advice

1. Not later than 20 working days after period 6 of the first academic year of enrolment in the Bachelor's programme, the Examining Board, acting on behalf of the Executive Board, will provide the student with a final study advice.
2. This final study advice is based on the results achieved by the student up to and including period 6
3. If, following the results earned during the resit period, the study advice must be adjusted due to the standard having been met, the Examining Board will revoke the binding negative study advice.
Instead, the Examining Board will give a final positive study advice. NOTE: the rejection resulting from the negative study advice given directly after period 6 is a valid definitive decision and must be appealed if the student disagrees with this rejection. See Article 71 paragraph 3.
4. The standard for a positive study advice is at least 36 credits earned or having passed all courses of the first year of the Bachelor's programme.
5. A final study advice is given by e-mail and must at least contain:
 - a. the student's name and student number;
 - b. the number of credits earned by the student;
 - c. if the student meets the standard, a positive study advice: 'expected to meet the requirements for the degree programme';
 - d. if the student does not meet the standard, but the Examining Board has taken the student's personal circumstances into account, a conditional positive study advice: 'although not having met the standard due to personal circumstances, is conditionally expected to meet the requirements for the degree programme';
 - e. if the student does not meet the standard and there are no personal circumstances to be taken into account by the Examining Board, a negative study advice: 'not expected to meet the requirements for the degree programme due to study results not meeting the standard set by Wageningen University' and the binding rejection: 'following the negative study advice the enrolment for the degree programme will be terminated at the end of the academic year';
 - f. if a conditional positive study advice has been given as described in subsection d: notice that the student is still required to meet the standard of 36 credits (including the study credits earned during the first year of enrolment) earned from completed first-year courses in the following study year;
 - g. if a negative study advice with a binding rejection is given as described in subsection e: the manner in which and to what extent personal circumstances have been taken into account;
 - h. if a negative study advice with a binding rejection is given as described in subsection e: the three-year period stipulated by the rejection during which the student cannot re-enrol for the degree programme in question;
 - i. the possibility to appeal to the Examination Appeals Board within the applicable term;
 - j. if a negative study advice with a binding rejection is given as described in subsection e: notice that the student, through passing resits during the resit period in August may still meet the standard, resulting in the Examining Board withdrawing the negative study advice given earlier and giving a positive advice instead;
 - k. date and signature by or on behalf of the Examining Board.

Article 68 Establishing the standard for study advice

1. The standard for the study advice is expressed in credits earned for completed courses of the first-year study programme. Credits are study credits ('studiepunten') as described in Article 7.4 of the Higher Education and Research Act (WHW).
2. Only successfully completed courses are included in determining whether the standard has been met. Results for course components are not included.
3. The credits for first year units of study for which an exemption has been granted are not included in determining whether the standard has been met.
4. If the student dis-enrols during the first year at any time and re-enrols in a later academic year for the same degree programme, courses that were completed during the initial year of enrolment are not included in determining whether the standard has been met.
5. If the student has received a conditional positive study advice as described in Article 67, section 5, subsection d, the courses completed during the first year of enrolment and corresponding results are included in determining whether the standard has been met for the second year of enrolment. If the student fails to meet the standard during the second year of enrolment, he will receive a binding negative study advice towards the end of the second academic year, in accordance with Article 67, section 5, subsection e, since in this case the conditions linked to the conditional positive study advice have not been met.
6. If a student transfers from one degree programme to another programme at Wageningen University during the first year of enrolment, the credits earned during the enrolment in the previous degree programme are not included in determining whether the standard has been met. To meet the standard for the programme to which the student has transferred, the student has to comply with Article 68 subsection 7.
7. If a student registers for the first year of a degree programme after 1 October of that year, he must meet the standard within one calendar year, and thus he must have obtained the required number of credits of B1-courses of the first-year's programme or have finished the first-year's programme (having passed all B1-courses) .
8. A student who registers for two (or more) bachelor degree programmes both during his first year of enrolment at Wageningen University, must meet the standard of 36 credits for in any case one of the programmes for which he had been registered.
9. A student who, during his second or later year of enrolment for his (first) WU bachelor degree programme, decides to enrol for a second WU bachelor degree programme, will not be subject to a binding study advice for his second WU bachelor degree programme.

Article 69 Taking into account the personal circumstances and the hearing of the student

1. In giving a binding negative study advice the Examining Board will take the personal circumstances of the student into account.
2. Personal circumstances that are to be taken into account are listed in Article 70, to the extent to which the Examining Board deems them to have resulted in the student in question being unable, in all fairness, to have met the standard. In reaching this decision, the Examining Board will also take into account the extent to which the student made these circumstances known to the student dean in a timely fashion so as to enable Wageningen University to adapt educational facilities to these circumstances where possible.
3. The Examining Board will give the student the opportunity to provide a written explanation of these personal circumstances, along with a written recommendation by the student dean. The student will have the opportunity to be heard before the Examining Board decides to issue a binding negative study advice.
4. The Examining Board is not bound by the recommendation of the student dean, but seriously takes this recommendation into consideration.

Article 70 Personal circumstances

1. The exclusive list of personal circumstances that may be taken into account in reaching a decision to give a study advice are as follows:
 - a. illness of the student;
 - b. disability or chronic illness of the student;
 - c. pregnancy of the student;
 - d. exceptional family circumstances;
 - e. participating in world class sports;
 - f. membership of the Student Council, membership of the Programme Board, membership of a board of a foundation which, according to its articles of association, is involved in the exploitation of student facilities, or an organisation that is deemed by the Executive Board to have a similar task;
 - g. other circumstances described by the Executive Board in the regulations based on articles 7.8b, paragraph 6, and Article 7.9, paragraph 5 of the WHW, in which the student is undertaking activities in relation to the organisation and the management of affairs of Wageningen University;
 - h. the membership of the board of a sizable student organisation with full legal status, exclusively insofar as it is a student organisation recognised by the Financial Student Support Regulations, and only if the student has held a position which entitles him to a six month's compensation from the Profiling Fund.
2. The student is obligated to notify the student dean of any personal circumstances as soon as possible, within two months after their occurrence. The student dean will then make a note of it in the student's file and ensure that these circumstances, if possible, are substantiated with evidence. The student dean, in consultation with the student, will inform the study adviser and Examining Board of these personal circumstances in a timely fashion.

Article 71 Hardship Clause

The Examining Board may, in exceptional individual cases, derogate from or not apply the provisions in articles 2 and 3, insofar application of these provisions, considering the interests they intend to protect, would result in an exceptional case of extreme unfairness.

Article 72 Appeal

1. The student may appeal any decision based on these regulations, and in particular a rejection resulting from a final negative study advice as described in Article 7.8b, sections 3 and 5 of the WHW. This rejection includes the decision to dis-enrol the student and prevent the student from re-enrolling in the same programme for a three-year period.
2. A student may appeal a decision within six weeks after receipt of the decision. The procedure is described in Chapter 11 "Complaint and appeal" of the EER.
3. This term of appeal will not be suspended pending the results earned during the resit period. In such event, however, the student can request, in his written appeal, to suspend the procedure pending the results the student will earn during the resit period.
4. Appealing a decision does not suspend the validity of the binding study advice. The student may not re-enrol for the same degree programme, even if the new academic year begins before the procedure is completed.

These regulations have been adopted by the Executive Board on 6 July 2020. Addendum to the Education and Examination Regulations of Wageningen University 2020-2021

In order to take the required measures related to the COVID-19 pandemic, it is necessary to make some temporary changes to the Education and Examination Regulations of Wageningen University (EER) 2020-2021.

Article 1 Temporary priority course guide on the Study Handbook due to COVID-19

By way of derogation from what is stated on page 1 of the EER and in article 2r, the course guide shall prevail if there is inconsistency between the course guide and the Study Handbook.

Article 2 Temporary deviation from mandatory participation in methods of instruction due to COVID-19

By way of derogation from Article 30, in the case of distance learning (online), compulsory active participation may be described in the Study Handbook or in the course guide.

Article 3 Temporary deviation from the scheduling due to COVID-19

By way of derogation from the provisions of Article 35, compulsory, regular courses, and limited elective courses will only be scheduled on working days in the established terms between 08:20 – 19:20 (08:20 – 17:30 on Fridays and practical courses until 19:20).

Article 4 Temporary deviation from the oral examinations due to COVID-19

- a. By way of derogation from Article 42 sub b, an online oral examination can be administered by one examiner.
- b. The examiner will make an audio recording of the online oral exam. This recording is kept for a period of two years from the date the results are announced.

Article 5 Temporary deviation from the scheduling of review and discussion due to COVID-19

By way of derogation Article 47 b and c, the examiner may organise the review and discussion online. Students are not allowed to make recordings or reproduce documents during or after the review or discussion.

Article 6 Temporary deviation from the study advice in the first year of the Bachelor's programme due to COVID-19

By way of derogation from Article 61 sub b and Articles 2.4, 2.5f, and 3.8 of the Binding Study Advice Regulations, the first-year student who has received a postponed binding study advice (previously a conditional positive advice) at the end of the first academic year 2019-2020 will receive a positive study advice if they have obtained at least 30 credits from the first-year programme (B1 courses) at the end of the academic year 2020-2021.

Article 7 Hardship clause

Within the limits of the law, the Executive Board may, in very exceptional cases, exclude the provisions of the EER or deviate from them in favour of the student in so far as its application, will result in a considerable lack of fairness.

Article 8 Effective date

- a. These Regulations enter into force on 1 September 2020.
- b. Following the recommendation of the Board of Education, these regulations have been adopted by the Executive Board with the consent of the Student Council and with the advice of the Programme Committees.
- c. These regulations will expire on 31 August 2021.

Information

Article 1 Temporary priority course guide on the Study Handbook due to COVID-19

If the education format has to be adapted as a result of the coronavirus measures, the most up-to-date information can be found in the course guide. In this case, the course guide deviates from the information in the Study Handbook. Therefore in the case of inconsistency between the course and the Study Handbook, the course guide shall prevail.

Article 2 Temporary deviation from mandatory participation in methods of instruction due to COVID-19

If education is provided online, active participation may be required instead of compulsory attendance.

Article 3 Temporary deviation from the scheduling due to COVID-19

The number of students and employees permitted to be physically on site per day has been calculated for the various buildings on campus based on what the available options provide and taking into account the necessary measures. By taking into account the maximum coronavirus capacity, education on campus will once again be possible on a limited scale. In order to make this possible, education starts at different times, so that not everyone has to enter the building at the same time. This is why the times on the schedule will be adjusted. Because of the shortage of practical course rooms and taking into account the maximum number of people present per room, practical courses can be scheduled on Friday until 19:20.

The scheduling will be evaluated after period 1 and 2. The Executive Board and the SC will discuss the evaluation in order to decide whether the scheduling will be continued for the rest of the academic year and in what form.

Article 4 Temporary deviation from the oral examinations due to COVID-19

In the case of examinations or resits in which fewer than 8 students are participating, several alternative methods of examination will be presented to the examiners. One of these is administering an oral exam, online or in person. The rule of thumb is that oral interim examination will be administered by two academic staff members, among which the examiner. If this is not possible due to the coronavirus measures, an exception can be made for the oral examination to be administered by one examiner.

An audio recording of the online exam will be made. This recording is kept for a period of two years from the date the results are announced according to article 11 paragraph 2 Rules and Regulations of the Examining Boards of Wageningen University. The recording can be used for a possible complaint or appeal.

Article 5 Temporary deviation from the scheduling of review and discussion due to COVID-19

Due to the coronavirus measures, it is not always possible to organise review and discussion on campus. That is why it is also possible for courses not taught online to organise review and discussion online.

Article 6 Temporary deviation from the study advice in the first year of the Bachelor's programme due to COVID-19

For students of the 2019-2020 cohort, the standard for binding study advice has been lowered from 36 to 30 credits. This means that students who have received a conditional positive study advice (postponed binding study advice) in academic year 2019-2020 will receive a positive study advice for 30 credits in academic year 2020-2021. The reduced BSA standard will not apply to students who start their Bachelor's programme in academic year 2020-2021. These students must have obtained 36 credits from the first-year programme (B1 courses) at the end of the first-year programme in order to receive a positive study advice.

Addendum 2 to the Education and Examination Regulations of Wageningen University 2020-2021

Article 1 Amendment of articles 22 and 34

As a result of the introduction of the student information system Osiris, articles 22 and 34 of the Education and Examination Regulations Wageningen University have been amended as of 1 December 2020 to read as follows:

Article 22 Extra courses

A student may register for extra courses and interim examinations beside the individual examination programme. These courses do not influence the result of the final examination. Extra courses will not be stated on the diploma supplement. Through the Student Service Centre, the student can obtain a print-out of all completed courses.

Article 34 Registering for courses; registering for specialisation and minor

- a. The student must register for each course through the student information system before the deadline set by the University has passed (see Agenda and calendar Academic year). Deviations from the registration procedure and from the moment of registration are mentioned in the Study Handbook in the course description (see Study Handbook).
- b. Courses with a maximum number of places have an earlier deadline for registration (at least one and two weeks at most) in order to enable the student to register for a different course when he is not admitted. The student for whom this course is a compulsory course will be admitted unconditionally. The student for whom this course is a restricted optional course will have priority over other applicants.
- c. Students who do not have priority as described in the previous paragraph will be drawn by lot to determine who may take part in the course. Students who register after the earlier registration date will be put on the waiting list, but will not have priority over students who registered on time and will not be drawn by lot.
- d. The bachelor's student who has completed all courses of his individual examination programme but has not yet received the test results and expects to pass the final bachelor examination halfway through³ the education period,, may, prior to his registration for the WU master's programme for which the student is admissible, register for master's courses. If the student does not pass the bachelor's examination, he must withdraw from the interim examination no later than halfway through the education period (no later than Sunday 23:59:59).
- e. Each education term the student can register for courses up to a maximum study load of 18 credits. If a student wants to register for an extra course, he must receive approval from the course coordinator of the extra course before the registration deadline has passed. The course coordinator will register the student personally.
- f. The student who withdraws from an interim examination until halfway through the education period in which the course is given will be deregistered and considered never to have taken that course.
- g. The student must register via the student information system for a possible specialisation at the latest before the day referred to in article 54 d. This registration is necessary in order to graduate.

³ Halfway through the education period: period 1, 2, 5 en 6: 4 weeks after the start of the education period at the latest on Sunday. Period 3 and 4: 2 weeks after the start of the education period at the latest on Sunday,

Article 2 Adoption

This regulations have been adopted on November 30 2020 by the Executive Board, taking into account the advice of the Board of Education, with approval of the Student Council and with the advice of the programme committees.
