Foreword

Wageningen University & Research is probably the only Dutch university and research institution with a One World Week to celebrate its international identity and the cultural diversity on its campus. And of course I am very proud of that. With over 100 nationalities Wageningen University & Research is becoming a true international organisation. Wageningen University & Research staff and students want to excel in science and to act as global citizens. We aim at understanding not only the scientific issues we are investigating, but also our social and cultural environment. This shapes our way of thinking. We are curious to experience different cultures, different approaches and values and we learn from each other. Actually, many worlds come together in Wageningen, in the upcoming week we emphasize this. Have a good time!

Prof. dr. Arthur Mol, rector magnificus

One World Week 2017

The One World Week is a week in which we celebrate the diversity and international focus in our education and research.

It's a perfect opportunity to learn more about different cultural backgrounds. Grab this chance to interact, connect, have fun and learn from each other to become a world-wise citizen. In the One World Week we have 50 activities in 1 week concerning international issues; exposure of different cultures, food, fashion, festival, debates on global themes, lectures, sports, movies etcetera.

The activities are during lunch time and in the evenings, mainly in Orion and Impulse. We also have nice activities during the weekend.

Most of the activities are for free and without registration. If registration is needed, it is shown on the website. This week is organised for all employees and students of Wageningen University & Research, Aeres University of Applied Sciences and other interested persons.

International food

During the One World Week, the caterers also serve international dishes (regular price):

- European food - Forum
- Asian food - Restaurant of the Future
- Latin American food - Orion
- African food - Leeuwenborch

On Wednesday April 5 there are also Food Trucks present at the Forum Market Place with drinks and bites for regular prices. See page 20 and website for more information.

International Classroom Dialogue

20.00 to 22.00

S&I Student Council organises a dialogue about International Classroom. About  $\frac{1}{4}$  of all current students is coming from different countries around the globe. This brings great opportunities for our education, but also many challenges. For the second time, S&I Student Council Party organises a dialogue where students and teachers can come together and talk about these challenges in an open and constructive way. Building upon knowledge gathered last year, differences between cultures in the classroom will be identified. This will be followed by brainstorming about how we can turn these differences into strengths in order to improve education and cohesion at Wageningen University. Please join the discussion and contribute to building a better Wageningen University.

Organised by S&I | Impulse Speakers Corner

International Karaoke night

20.00 to 23.00

A fun evening for Dutch and international students to meet and sing along! Music connects everyone.

Organised by IxESN Wageningen | LUCA. Herenstraat 31

Lecture about Halal food

12.30 to 13.30

Many religions have dietary guidelines or laws. These differ from religion to religion and historically did not cause serious problems. Nowadays people from different religions and cultures move all over the world. At the same time more food is imported and exported and food production chains get more and more complicated. The Islam has very strict dietary laws to which Muslims should adhere. This is not a problem in most Islamic countries. But how do you know as a Muslim in non-Muslim countries what is allowed and what not? Due to the complexity of the food, this is hardly ever clear. And can you trust a certificate in a non-Muslim country? This lecture will deal with a few basic aspects of Islamic food law and the problems that Muslims face when buying food in a country like the Netherlands.

Organised by Ralf Hartemink, WUR | Orion Wing Atlas side

Presentation about the history of the Netherlands

12.30 to 13.30

Do you live in Holland or in the Netherlands? Or is this a silly question? A short presentation about the history of the Netherlands with a focus on its Golden Century: From a revolutionary group to a kingdom. More about the founding of the Netherlands, the role of Holland and the contribution of foreigners and refugees to our Golden Age.

Organised by Hermien Miltenburg WUR | Impulse Speakers Corner

Syrup waffles

16.00 to 17.30

This is a cultural evening that shows the diversity among South and Central American countries. What is inside the word "Latin"? Come and discover with ISOW and OLAH delicious food from different countries, beautiful dances and music and off course, a true Latin party to close the night!! Be sure to be there on time to enjoy the food! Presale tickets via ISOW.

Organised by ISOW and OLAH | Orion The Spot

Into the jungle of diversity Shout benefit party

21.00 to 03.00

Shout is the most straight friendly LGBT+ association in Wageningen. Tonight we celebrate diversity by going to a place no one has explored before, where everyone is equal and respects each other. Dance to top 40 music as well as international songs. Maybe you'll pick up a new favorite music, or share your favorites with others. All proceeds will go to the refugee support committee of Shout. Volunteers from this committee speak with LHBT refugees that are in the center in Wageningen. They are also invited to activities from Shout to socialize with like-minded people in a safe environment. The support fund then pays there transport costs and some drinks on the activity. Also special activities for them are organized regularly. The Wilde Wereld will open its doors on 21:00 to have a drink at the bar (bar profit will go to the good cause) and you can enjoy some live music. At 23:00 the party will start. Entrance fee is € 3.00.

Organised by SHOUT | De Wilde Wereld

Sunday April 2

Plant Party:

13.00 to 16.00

Swap cuttings and plants to grow your indoor garden

Sunday the 2nd we are throwing a real plant party. You can swap cuttings and plants to grow your indoor garden. This event will be the start of the Plant Asylum. When students leave Wageningen they can bring back their plant and we will try to find a new place for it. People travel all of the world, plants do not.

Organised by THUIS | THUIS Wageningen

Chinese Music with Dance by SweetPotato & Friends

14.30 to 16.00

Organised by CASSW | Orion The Spot

UN's sustainable development goals

19.00 to 21.30

Lecture and workshop about the sustainable development goals. First we would like to talk about what Unicef and the WUR are doing with those goals. We have invited the UN youth representative of the NL (Martijn Visser) to tell something about what he does for the UN. We have invited a professor of WUR who is involved in the SDGs to give a small lecture about it. So the students can hear the reason behind topics (related to SDGs) they learn at university and it creates teacher - student involvement. We will end this evening with a discussion how to contribute to those sustainable development goals by making small discussion groups and let people think about e.g. the following questions: what am I doing to contribute to the SDGs? How do I fit into those goals? What is the most important topic of the SDGs? And why?

Organised by Unicef studentteam Wageningen | Orion Wing Atlas side

Dutch fantasy: an Efteling adventure!

19.00 to 22.00

This is a drawing, linoleum carving and sculpture workshop based on Dutch fairy tales. We will give a short presentation about the Efteling, a small Dutch equivalent of Disney. After that, we will start 3 separate workshops: drawing, linoleum carving and sculpting. For all three the famous drawings and designs of the late Dutch illustrators Anton Pieck and Ton van der Ven among several others will be used as examples.

Organised by Krater (SSR-W) | Orion Wing Forum side

Speed dating

20.00 to 22.00

Have you ever wondered what it was like to be blind in a social situation. IxESN and ISOW Wageningen offer you this experience in a session of blind speed dating.

Organised by IxESN Wageningen and ISOW | Cafe Loburg

Japan: Sake tasting and the Kimono story

20.00 to 22.00

Find out more about the history of Japan's most famous drink, the differences in production and, most of all, the wide variety in taste. The connoisseurs of Yoigokochi Sake Importers selected their finest sake for this tasting session. A unique opportunity to discover a world that is at least as rich as that of Belgian beer and French wine. Then a group of Japanese students will introduce us to the world of the Kimono, the traditional Japanese dress for women and men. Different types of Kimono are used depending on age, marital status and the level of formality of the occasion. Men wear the Kimono most often at weddings, tea ceremonies, and other very special or very formal occasions. And there is a simplified version for everyday life called Yukata, which will also be modelled. There is place for max. 50 participants. Registration necessary via OWW website.

*Organised by Yokoso Wageningen-Japanese welcome group |
Impulse Speakers Corner*

Tuesday April 4

Time Between Cultures:

20.00 to 22.00

An Intercultural Approach to Time

Did you ever look at time as a cultural concept? Something that may initially seem self-evident and static might become much more versatile and complex if you take an intercultural approach. Is time linear or cyclic? Does the future lie ahead of us, or is it the unknown ground behind our backs? Is time defined by the clock or by events? Is time scarce or unlimited? Can time be wasted? Can time be controlled or not? Around the globe, we vary in our views on these issues. What kind of cultural differences and similarities can be discerned, and what does this tell about ourselves and each other? Join Studium Generale and explore the intriguing concept of time from the perspective of cultural anthropology, and find out why the cultural rules of social time have been characterised as a "silent language". It turns out that time is all but an unambiguous concept, and that the way we look at it reveals a lot about our sociocultural backgrounds and our outlooks on life. Examine your personal time orientation and find out how it relates to that of others. How can intercultural awareness of different perspectives on time facilitate international and intercultural communication and collaboration?

Organised by Studium Generale | Impulse

Mexican Party

22.00 to 02.00

After the Mexican kitchen of IxESN Franciscus organises a Mexican Fiesta in the same room. We like to everybody to dive into a different culture together with the Mexican members of IxESN. Together they organise a nice fiesta that will be Mexican themed and a lot of fun.

Pub Quiz 19.00 to 22.00

The Pub Quiz is one of the most popular activities in the Spot, this time, together with ISOW, we will do it with a new international focus. How much you think you know about other cultures?? Test yourself and your friends, put some beer on the table and tell us... Is it stereotype or reality?

Organised by ISOW and The Spot Committee | Orion The Spot
