You are all invited to the short symposium that will be held in occasion of the PhD defense of Éva Dóró.

The title of her thesis is:

“Through the looking glass: trypanosome infections in zebrafish. Seeing is believing”

When: Wednesday 5th of June,

Where: Zodiac building (122), room A0107

Programme:

9:15  coffee

9:25-9:30  Dr Maria Forlenza - Wageningen University

Introduction

9:30-10:30  Dr Mai Nguyen-Chi – Montpellier University

“Polarized macrophages and epimorphic regeneration: from zebrafish to regenerative medicine”

10:30-11:30  Prof. Julius Lukeš - Director of Parasitology Institute and Biology Center, České Budějovice, Czech Republic

“Diplonemids, new kids on the ocean block”

11:30-11:45  break

11:45-12:30  Éva Dóró - PhD candidate Cell Biology and immunology Group, WUR

“Through the looking glass: trypanosome infections in zebrafish. Seeing is believing”

16:00  PhD defense, Aula of Wageningen University, General Foulkesweg 1a, Wageningen