

Editors Talk:

Hello everybody! This is the third edition of the monthly MGI newsletter! So we are entering period 2 and 2nd year thesis work is in full flow or full stand still depending who you talk to. The 1st years are next door in Remote Sensing and Geotools and if everything is going well they will be enjoying three day weekends.. Look forward to GeoBuzz people and enjoy the Autumn colours.

Den Haag and MGI:

In October a group of MGI students took part in a trip to Den Haag so as to study the geo-political organisation of the city with respect to city planning and the locational attributes and placement of embassies within major cities. The outcome was a rousing success with the investigation proving that yes embassies do have specific locational focusses in mind and also unsurprisingly very hard to open doors.

Hey all Autumn or Herfst in Dutch is here and the it is looking great. So to celebrate and because its simply fun. We have decided to hold a fall photo competition. Send in your best Autumn photo from this season and you can win a six pack of Herfst Bok Bier (non-alcoholic prize also available).

However we are MGI so submissions need to include the geolocation of where you took the photo. Any format is acceptable as long as someone else can find the place again.

All can enter from students to lecturers. The winners photo will be featured in next months newsletter. The winner will be selected by a panel of special judges.

Send submissions to roeland.dekoning@wur.nl

GeoBuzz Conference 2015 | A message from Willy ten Haaf

There will be some geo-buzzing the 24th and 25th of November 2015 in congress centre 1931 in 's Hertogenbosch. The first GeoBuzz was organized last year and attracted 2100 visitors. The focus point will be the exhibition. Besides an education square and geo-meeting square, there will be a AGRI-, ENERGY and BIM-square. There will be a lot of presentations and workshops about hot topics in the field. All in all a good opportunity to explore your career options. And maybe find an interesting company for your internship or thesis. On the 25th of November a 'student day' is organised where students can visit at a reduced rate (€10). Sign up here

GeoBUZZ: Get Amongst it People

Hoe kunnen we een spoorwegzone duurzaam gaan gebruiken? En hierbij rekening houden met wonen, werken, infrastructuur, vervoer, natuur, recreatie en de ondergrond? Wil jij hier een innovatieve oplossing voor bedenken? Schrijf je dan nu in!

ID in a Week... waarom je dit niet mag missen!

Laat je creativiteit de vrije loop, bedenk de beste innovatie, pak je podium, netwerk met mensen uit het werkveld en niet onbelangrijk... beleef drie toffe dagen met andere studenten!

Presenteer je innovatie tijdens Geobuzz

Geobuzz is een 2-daags congres over geo-informatie. Jaarlijks komen hier bedrijven, onderwijs en het Kadaster samen om informatie te delen, innovaties te laten zien en elkaar te inspireren. Verzin jij de meest innovatieve oplossing tijdens 'ID in a Week', dan presenteer je jouw idee tijdens Geobuzz. Wie weet zit jouw toekomstige werkgever wel in de zaal?!
