

Master's students

Determination of tuition fees to be paid

Academic year 2021-2022

The tuition fee to be paid will be determined initially by Wageningen University after we have received your request for enrolment via Studielink. The tuition fee is determined on the basis of the 'indication tuition fees' that we receive from DUO. If we do not have received an 'indication tuition fee' from DUO, we will calculate the tuition fee you have to pay on the basis of the information available at that moment regarding your nationality and your previous education.

The amount of the tuition fees to be paid will be communicated as soon as possible via Studielink as of 1 May 2021. First-year master's students who require a visa and/or residence permit, will be informed by email about the amount of institutional tuition fees to be paid after the decision on their admissibility to the master's programme has been issued.

If it later transpires that, on the first day of your enrolment in 2021-2022, the data regarding your nationality or the diploma/previous education obtained differ from the data at the time of your application for enrolment, Wageningen University may decide to adjust the initial tuition fees charged.

For example, you have submitted a request for enrolment in a WU master's programme in February 2021 but you have obtained your first master's degree at a Dutch Institute for Higher Education in July 2021. This was not known at the time Wageningen University processed your request for enrolment for the master's programme and we have charged you the statutory tuition fee. In September 2021, we are notified by DUO that you had earned another master's degree on September 1 and you are not entitled to the statutory tuition fee in 2021-2022. Instead of the statutory tuition fee you will have to pay the institutional tuition fee 2. We will then send you a new invoice for the institutional tuition fee 2 and ask you to pay the difference. When the difference is not paid, your enrolment will be terminated in accordance with Wageningen University regulations.

Disclaimer

No rights can be derived from this information. Conditions and amounts mentioned may be subject to change depending on Dutch legislation and Wageningen University policies.

---

---